

The King's Troop Ceremonial Gun Carrier

Channel Commercials Plc is immensely proud to have been involved in the specification and supply of the new DAF FAN XD for the King's Ceremonial Gun Carrier through our partnership with Novuna and Babcock. This was a ground up specification with valuable input from all associated parties, the result being a truck uniquely specified for the job and we look forward to seeing the truck in use on historic occasions.

These guns famously fired the first British round of the First World War on the Western Front and later saw action in major battles such as the Somme, Ypres and Cambrai, before taking on their modern role as the ceremonial saluting guns used by The King's Troop.
